Free architectural advice for charity

THE ROYAL INSTITUTE of Architects of Ireland has become associated with the Simon Community and has arranged to make an offer of one free consultation in exchange for a donation of €50. Oliver Daly of Castleisland and Brendan Moriarty are the Kerry RIAI members participating this year in the fundraising effort. Oliver's services are available to the public on Saturday and Sunday, May 7th and 8th. Anyone considering building a new house or extension or applying for permission, is invited to make an appointment. The consultation can develop innovative ideas and discuss new materials as well as establish what projects will cost and how to go about bringing them to fruition. More information is available on www.simonopendoor.ie, www.riai.ie or at 086 6022078.
